

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC VIRTUAL LIBRARY

Bringing the National Geographic Society to DIGITAL LIFE

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC VIRTUAL LIBRARY

Now National Geographic and Gale, part of Cengage Learning, have partnered to bring vast resources to digital life with our National Geographic Virtual Library. This collection brings together a complete archive of National Geographic magazine — every page of every issue — along with a cross-searchable collection of National Geographic books, maps, images and videos. www.gale.cengage.com/ngvl

The National Geographic Virtual Library is comprised of three key collections:

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC
MAGAZINE ARCHIVE, 1888-1994

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE ARCHIVE, 1995-CURRENT

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC:
PEOPLE, ANIMALS, AND THE WORLD

The National Geographic Virtual Library provides undergraduate students with a great introduction to primary sources. It presents accessible and educational content in a way that engages them where traditional academic periodicals and journals cannot.

By including vivid photographs, charts, maps, graphs, and videos, along with articles written by experts in their fields, National Geographic Virtual Library supports research in a wide range of academic disciplines - from history and geography to anthropology and biology.

National Geographic & Cengage Learning
A GROUNDBREAKING PARTNERSHIP

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE ARCHIVE, 1888-1994

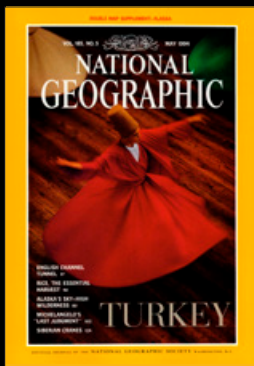

The journey started in 1888 when a group of explorers and scientists created a society for the support of geographical knowledge and to share that knowledge with the world.

Now your students can experience that early journey through unparalleled, in-depth coverage of cultures, global events, nature, science, technology, the environment, and gripping first-person accounts of epic exploration and discovery.

With comprehensive, timely articles and legendary photos and maps, the iconic magazine documents life on our planet and beyond, interpreting the world through the lens of personal experience:

- Jane Goodall's encounters with chimpanzees in Tanzania;
- Hiram Bingham's expedition into Machu Picchu in 1911;
- Robert Ballard's 1985 discovery of the Titanic on the floor of the Atlantic Ocean;
- And many more examples

FEATURES

- 187K+ pages in 1,224 issues
- 160K+ images
- 465 map supplements
- Detailed indexing of feature articles, map supplements, images and advertisements

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE ARCHIVE, 1995-CURRENT

The journey continues through present day with National Geographic Magazine Archive, 1995-Current. Changes in our world since 1995 – changes in science and technology, the environment, and the cultures of the world – provide unprecedented research opportunities in geography, history, world cultures and many other disciplines.

The pages of National Geographic magazine fulfill an important role – but printed, bound editions are limited in reader access and subject to loss and damage.

Just some of the topics covered:

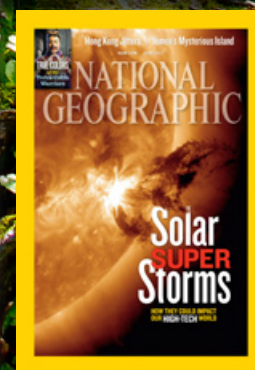

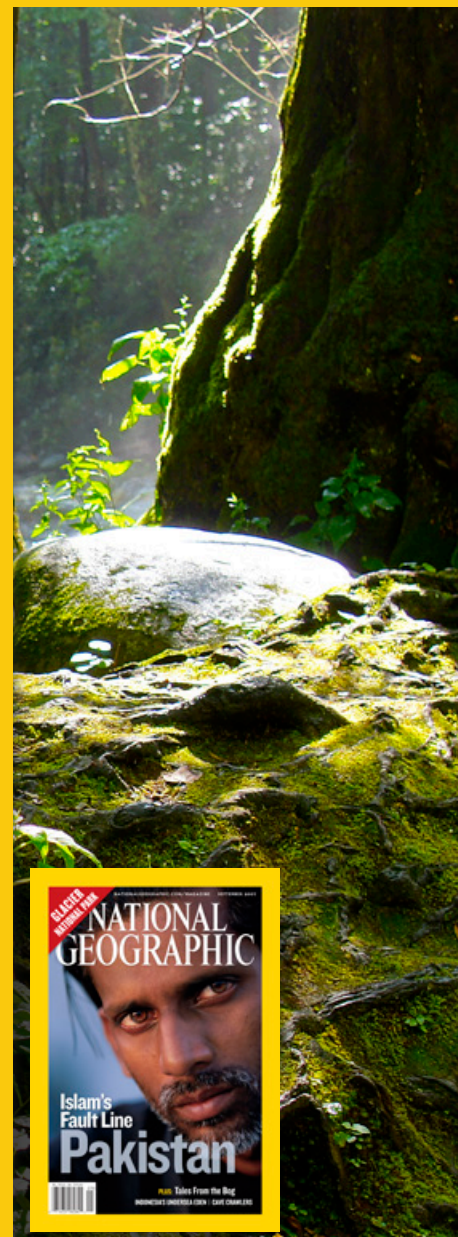

- Genghis Khan
- Inca Ice Maiden discovery
- Egyptian tombs exploration
- Mustang region
- Sita the tiger
- Hubble Space Telescope and Mars Rover
- Nenets, Maasai and Garifuna Peoples
- Epic journeys like Megatransect and Australia by Bike

Eurasia was theirs alone for 200,000 years. Then the newcomers arrived.

Last of the Neanderthals

Reconstruction by Kévin R. Kranić
Reconstruction photographs by Joe McNally

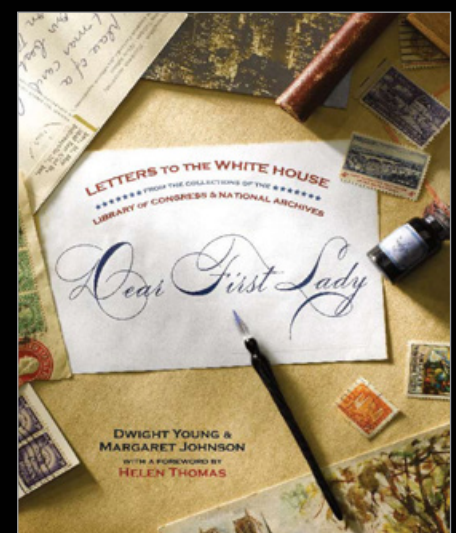

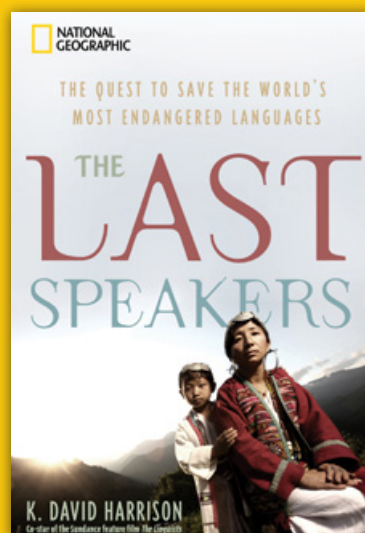

For the first time, a Neanderthal female pines from the past in a reconstruction informed by both fossil anatomy and ancient DNA. At least some of her wild auburn hair and juicy skin.
